YEA, RED! YEA, WHITE!
HER STAR IS BRIGHT!

Excerpts from Valedictory Address, given by Miss Alice Brand, Class of '65, at the Commencement Exercises in Music Hall, on June 15, 1965. (Complete speech, page 172.)

Commencement is, in a very real sense, the beginning of many new experiences. It is the beginning of our acceptance into the adult world. It is the beginning of a new freedom to direct our own actions. It is the beginning of a new responsibility for our own financial and social independence. But, most of all, Commencement is the beginning of our search for our purpose in life.

Purposeful living is based on an understanding of four points: where we are, who we are, where we are going, and how we hope to get there. . . .

First, where are we? We are in a universe which challenges us on to more and more exploration. We live in a great nation, which is still plagued with problems of poverty and civil rights. . . .

Looking backward, we can see that we, as graduating seniors, have walked a fairly common path. . . . Looking forward, we see that soon the road will diverge, opening to each of us new opportunities. But before we choose a pathway, we must, first, have a thorough understanding of ourselves. . . .

Who are we, anyway? You might say we are a combination of interests and abilities, successes and failures, likes and dislikes, fears and hopes. . . . In any event, who we are—as shown by our interests and abilities—determines where we are going.

Then, where are we going? Soon the Class of '65 will scatter; some to take jobs, some to go into military service, some to be married, and some to pursue their education in college or elsewhere. Yet regardless of what our future plans may be, we all need a vision and a goal. . . .

However, if we are not willing to supplement our visions with effective work, they will never be realized. And, of course, when our visions are not real goals, but rather idle wishes, they will never, never come true. . . .

Now that we have analyzed who we are, where we are, and where we are going, we come to the final question: How do we get there?

Further education, whether at college or in the world, is the first step toward achievement. . . .

It follows, then, that the second step toward our achievement is work, for it is through work that we put our knowledge into practice. . . .

Finally, all our knowledge, all our plans, and all our work, still do not insure us of discovering a true purpose, for we may become easily discouraged. Our vision may sometimes be dimmed by adversity. We may have to modify our dream.

Yet there is one fact of which we may be sure. There is a God of infinite power and love who cares about us. Through Him, our failures, our blunders, our trials and our tears are transformed into the very stepping-stones of achievement. And through Him, we can discover the finest purpose in our lives.

HONOR

"For the honor of the school" represents the reason that loyal Huzites strive for high scholastic attainments, participate in athletics and practice good citizenship. They cherish their Alma Mater.

Capable Principal Dedicated to Brightening Hughes Star

Mr. Edwin Sutton, Jr., has done much to make our past years at Hughes memorable and enjoyable experiences. Competent, dignified, and friendly, he draws respect and admiration from student and faculty alike. As the chief administrator of our school, Mr. Sutton has taken upon himself the responsibility of providing the students with a pleasant atmosphere for learning. Although his position keeps him confined to a busy schedule, he still takes time to handle the individual problems of his students. Mr. Sutton's dedication to making Hughes students responsible citizens of the world is demonstrated by his constant urging for excellence, and the success of his endeavors is typified by the outstanding accomplishments of Hughes graduates in the fields of business and higher education.

Work of Three Assistant Principals, Ever So Valuable

A V.I.P. known to everyone at Hughes is our Mr. Hobson, senior high assistant principal. He is kept busy by taking care of attendance, enrollment, and student activities. His main satisfaction, however, comes from working with the senior class, to whom he gives invaluable guidance throughout the year.

In many ways, Mr. Jones, the administrative assistant principal, furnishes leadership for the smooth operation of the school. His many responsibilities include curriculum-planning, teacher appraisal, and providing students with textbooks and lockers.

Mr. Stillwell is the popular assistant principal of the junior high section. His duty is to prepare junior high students for their years in the senior high school. The friendly relationship between himself and the students in both junior and senior high makes him one of the best-liked administrators at Hughes.

Counselors Guide Students to Successful Goals

Jean S. Frehse with Clarence Haubher, junior.

Throughout the past year, students of the senior high section of Hughes have benefited from the guidance of an experienced counseling staff. Mrs. Frehse, Miss Wedell, Mr. Acree, and Mr. Greene, with the aid of individual teachers, assist students in planning their futures and in solving problems which have arisen both in the school and at home. This year Mrs. Frehse is working especially with seniors, helping them select a college or occupation, which is best suited to their individual interests and abilities.

In the junior high, Miss Linne, Mr. White, and Mrs. Knisley help seventh, eighth, and ninth graders to become adjusted to high school life.

At the end of each marking period, teachers take their grade books to the auditorium. There, amid much hectic activity of various kinds, they record subject grades for at least one hundred fifty students in many different home-rooms. Student helpers, supplied by the counselors, assist in distributing the numbered trays.

Book day again in Miss Pollard's eleventh grade English class! "Please fill out your book card."

"I never could learn the principal parts of all those irregular verbs," complain these students.

Mr. Stephens, English and journalism teacher, uses new over-head projector in his classes.

"Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow . . ." Senior students remember this passage from Shakespeare's tragedy, Macbeth, as one of their most difficult lessons in interpretation during their junior year of English. The works of Dickens, Hardy, Frost, Willa Cather, and many other authors, provide hours of reading and study for students determined to gain a greater appreciation of literary masterpieces.

Literature is only part of the curriculum, however, There is also that old foe, grammar. Fortunately, Hughes has qualified and experienced teachers, who stress the fundamentals of our language and furnish students with a solid background of good usage for speech and writing.

Since Mrs. Hamlin resigned as chairman of the English Department last June, Mr. Bradford and Mrs. Entzminger now head up the senior high and junior high sections, respectively.

Mr. Bradford, Mrs. Entzminger Head Largest Department

Yesterday's History Helps Build Today's Great Society

Are you interested in American history, modern history, world history, civics, socio-economic problems, or world geography? If you're a history buff, you will have a field day, for all these stimulating courses are offered at Hughes. Courses required are American history and modern or world history. Socio-economic problems is open only to seniors, and world geography only to freshmen. It's a golden opportunity to learn not only about your own country and government, but about other countries. History lovers, arise! The opportunity is here. Take advantage of it!

Teachers Sometimes Like to Relax With a Book

Anna Baldwin checks inventory with Mr. Siddall.

"I can't read my own shorthand," W. Snoddy tells Miss Levine.

Mr. Davis assigns homework to his record-keeping class.

Prospective Employees Train for Jobs After Graduation

In recent years, the business department has greatly increased in numbers. Clerical services and record-keeping are the newest courses added to the curriculum. Additional modern business machines have been purchased to acquaint students with their use in an office. With offerings such as bookkeeping, accounting, typing, shorthand, merchandising, and salesmanship, it is not difficult for a Hughes student to become the boss's top secretary!

Shorthand and typing also come in handy for taking notes in class or typing that term paper. Merchandising and salesmanship students work in big department stores as well as at school. Through their classroom teachers, students obtain part-time jobs after school and during holidays and regular jobs later on. Some students take their knowledge of business practices with them to college.

Knowledge of Mathematics, Increasingly Important

Several types of mathematics courses prepare students for a future more and more involved with numbers. Consumer Mathematics acquaints students with many different kinds of financial calculations they will have to make as adult citizens. Business arithmetic is necessary for students desiring jobs in the world of business. Algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and calculus courses aid college-bound students, who plan careers in engineering, space aeronautics, computer work, or designing of buildings.

Mrs. McDaniel finds time to give individual help on a problem.

When Philip Morgan cries out, "I don't understand this problem!" Mrs. Muldrow offers some helpful explanation.

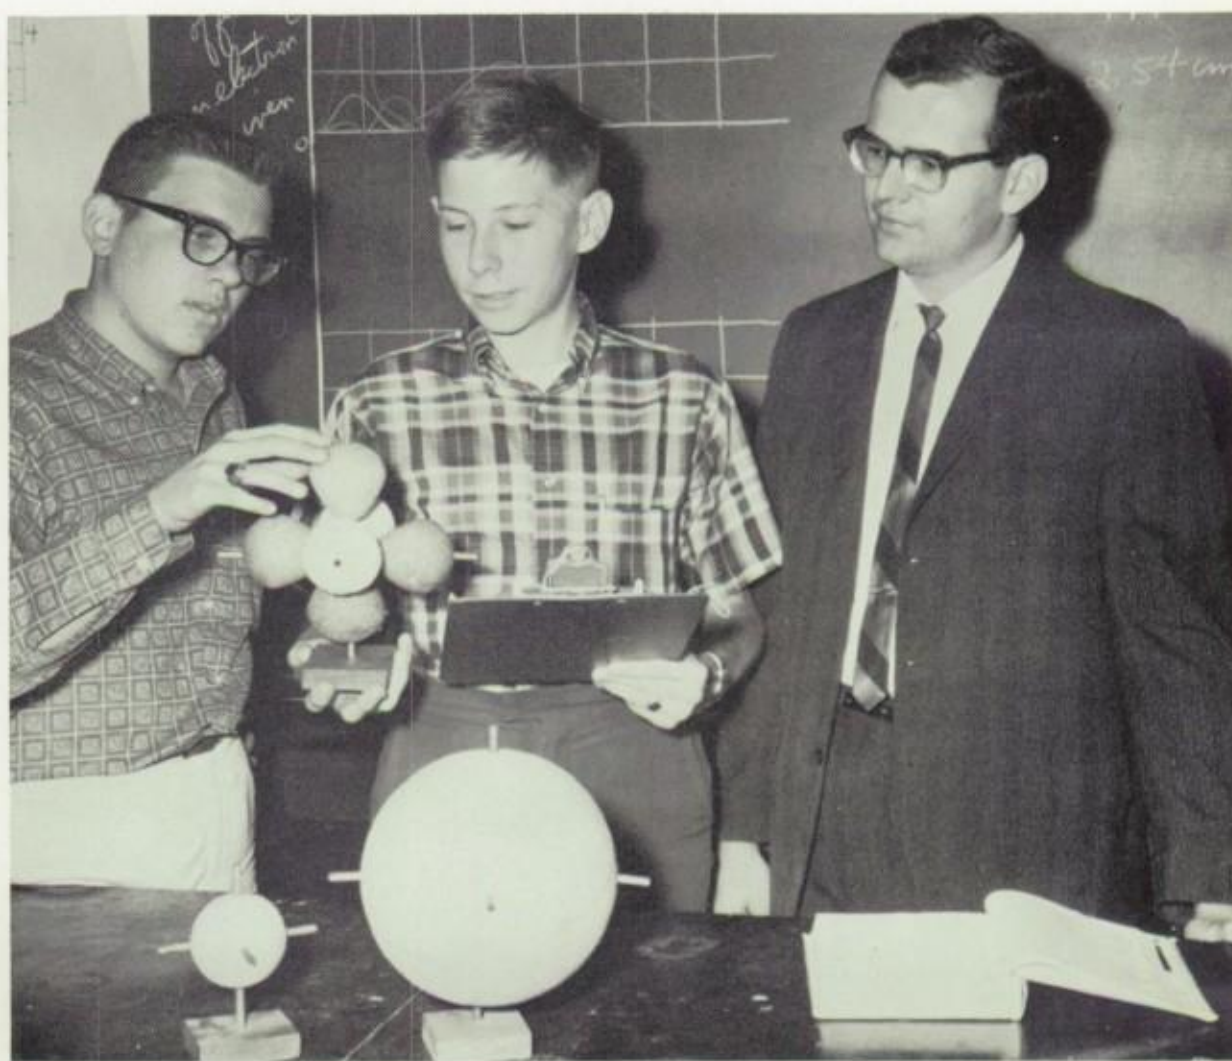

Lewis Hall and Jacquelyn Cassell learn that blackboard work is a 'must' in Mr. Morris' geometry class.

"Can you see them?" Miss Bacon asks the girls at their microscopes.

Mr. Bauer's biology class does lab work.

Mr. Himes helps T. Schott and B. Rippetoe with chemistry experiment.

Complex World of Science, Ever Changing in Modern Times

From physiology to physics, from amoebas to atoms, students have a world of science to study. In the Space Age, this changing field offers challenge even to the keenest minds, and Hughes is fortunate in having well-trained teachers, who enrich the courses with valuable experiences in their fields.

Learning how to perform experiments in the various labs emphasizes the importance of following directions carefully, making exact measurements, and analyzing results objectively.

Teachers Perform Many Duties in Addition to Instructing

Every day is a busy day for teachers. Besides teaching their classes, they have a variety of other activities to supervise. Presiding over a homeroom requires the handling of many routine details, which pertain to the students' membership at Hughes High School. As sponsors of clubs and organizations, teachers spend many hours advising and helping students. There are programs to be planned, projects to be carried out, and party preparations to be made.

Far left: Do the big ones get away? Mr. Warner, avid fisherman, says 'no'. Left: "Pleased as punch!" That's how Mr. and Mrs. Prior feel about their recently acquired home.

"Cruising down the river" is the theme song of the Skurow Family on a lazy Sunday afternoon. All agree that boating is great fun.

Right: This interesting antique calendar clock has been in Miss Lovell's family for a long time. Below: Mr. Talmadge, student teacher, makes like Napoleon!

Variety of Interests—Boating, Antiques, Speaking

Co-workers at Hughes spend their out-of-school hours in many different ways. All enjoy a variety of hobbies and engage in interesting activities. Others beside Mr. Skurow are boating enthusiasts and spend some of their leisure time on the river. Fishing, camping, and golf also attract many of the faculty men. For some, it means active participation; for others, it means teaching or supervising those who wish to participate. Everybody at Hughes knows about Mr. Kalchek's work with boys and Mr. Morgan Jones' popularity as a golf pro. Mr. Miller's great interest is the Cincinnati Royals.

Miss Lovell takes great pride in her collection of antiques, which her friends admire, too.

Does anybody need a musical combo? There are plenty of talented musicians on the Hughes faculty—Miss Ratliff, piano; Mr. Strahler, bass; Mr. Hughes, trumpet; Mr. Wilkey, trombone; Miss Kloak, strings; and many others. Several teachers perform vocally in church music.

Gardening proves a very useful hobby for faculty members interested in outdoor work. Mr. Foegler claims to be the best weed-puller and leaf-raker from Hughes. Mrs. Caskey's chrysanthemums, below, speak for themselves, and everyone is familiar with Miss Newman's artistic flower arrangements found daily in the main office. The request for flowers to decorate tea-tables and banquet tables can always be filled by Hughes teachers with green thumbs.

Gardening, Music, Food—Favorites of Hughes Personnel

Blooming chrysanthemums fill the garden of Mrs. Caskey, who finds much pleasure and relaxation in caring for the flowers.

Understanding of Many Languages, Valuable Asset

Bonjour! Buenos Dias! Guten Tag! Salve! Whether you say 'hello' in French, Spanish, German, or Latin, you're sure to be understood by the foreign language students.

Under the guidance of their teachers and with the aid of the language lab, students become familiar with the language and literature of many peoples. Reading and writing are stressed along with conversational skill in the modern languages. The music of the various nations helps students gain a greater appreciation of both the language and the culture of the people whose language is being studied.

Ed Burian models "lederhosen", typical of Bavaria and Austria.

Ann Baty and Ethel Crawford study Spanish verbs.

It's fun to read comic books and paperbacks in French.

Art Curriculum Includes Study of Many Art Forms

Do you like artistic things? Then head for the arts and crafts rooms on the second-floor annex. Colorful materials and a few good ideas produce imaginative results, which often find their way into display cases, onto bulletin boards and even into art contests. Art students also furnished needed publicity material.

Ambitious Music Department Enjoys Wide Reputation

Everybody's proud of the music department!

Band members spend many hours in Mr. Bruner's classroom preparing for their various public appearances.

Talented and well-trained singers from Miss Barker's junior high classes move up into the senior high choirs and chorus. Another "Superior" rating is the goal of Mr. Ayer's students.

"It's just the gypsy in their souls!" The day school ends in June, Hughes teachers head for points north, south, east, or west. Some head for big cities or national parks; others seek interesting out-of-the-way places. Some even go 'south of the border' or north to Canada. Purely by accident, Miss Adomeit and Mr. Arrington ran into each other in Mexico, where Mr. Wynne also vacationed. Mr. Grooms and Miss Hollweck keep returning to Europe. Beautiful slides, movies, and snapshots tell the story of all these travels.

Following Recipes and Patterns Produces Happy Results

Yes, add just a pinch of this and a pinch of that and we'll soon have a delicious salad ready for Mrs. Caskey's approval.

Do you want to learn how to cook and sew? Would you like to study child care? Then see the Hughes home economics department. Future wives and homemakers will profit from the knowledge and experience of a qualified home ec staff.

Mr. Campbell, new graphic arts teacher, instructs these interested junior high boys.

New equipment of modern design has updated the industrial arts department. Over ten thousand dollars worth of drafting, printing, and metal-working equipment enables Hughes students to receive training in industrial arts. Capable teachers handle this apprenticeship program for prospective workers.

Industrial Arts Department, Proud of Modern Equipment

Physical Fitness Emphasized for Each Student

"One more lap around the gym; then we'll do our exercises!" This is a familiar cry in both the boys' and girls' gyms, as the physical education teachers attempt to round their groaning students into shape. Team sports are also offered to give everyone opportunity to develop skill and good sportsmanship.

Health, Driver Training Courses of Practical Value to Many

Learning how to maintain good health and how to remain in good physical condition throughout our lives is the primary purpose of health courses. These courses are required in the sophomore and senior years. Sophomores study driver education and physical fitness; seniors study first aid and home and family living.

Teaching Staff Caught in Whirl of Educational Activity

Hughes teachers give generously of time and talents to further the goals of various educational groups. Department meetings, city-wide curriculum committees, Cincinnati Teachers Association, Cincinnati Teachers Union, and the Superintendent's Advisory Council benefit from the co-operation and leadership of the Hughes teaching staff. Appraisal and advanced study also make demands.

Both the Junior and Senior High National Honor Societies serve as examples of the honor that students have in Hughes. Besides their high scholastic achievements, these students find time to attend and participate in varsity sports, play in the band, sing in the choir, and engage in other extra-curricular activities.

The '66 ANNUAL honors them and challenges them, as tomorrow's leaders, to uphold the honor of Hughes always.

USEFULNESS

One of the primary purposes of the organizations of Hughes is to aid in developing each student as a responsible and constructive citizen, together with providing an outlet for his individual interests.

Executive Board

Back: Candy Foit, Phil Bennie, president; La-Wanda James, Boisine Howard, Ken Montag, Phyllis Booker, Mary Kirchgessner, Judi Morrison, Miss Vitali, sponsor.

Club Sets New Policy About Attendance at Pep Assemblies

Miss Vitali has taken over as sponsor of the Pep Club.

The cheerleaders jump for joy as a Hughes hoopster scores another basket.

"Buy a shaker! Show your spirit!"

In the fall the halls ring with these shouts, and students hurry to reach a Pep Club salesman. A large membership again this year keeps the Hughes Pep Club one of the largest in the whole state. Miss Vitali, the new sponsor, and the executive board direct activities. Members of the Pep Club are required to present I.D. cards at pep rallies. This encourages attendance at ball games, where a large cheering section helps the teams on to victory.

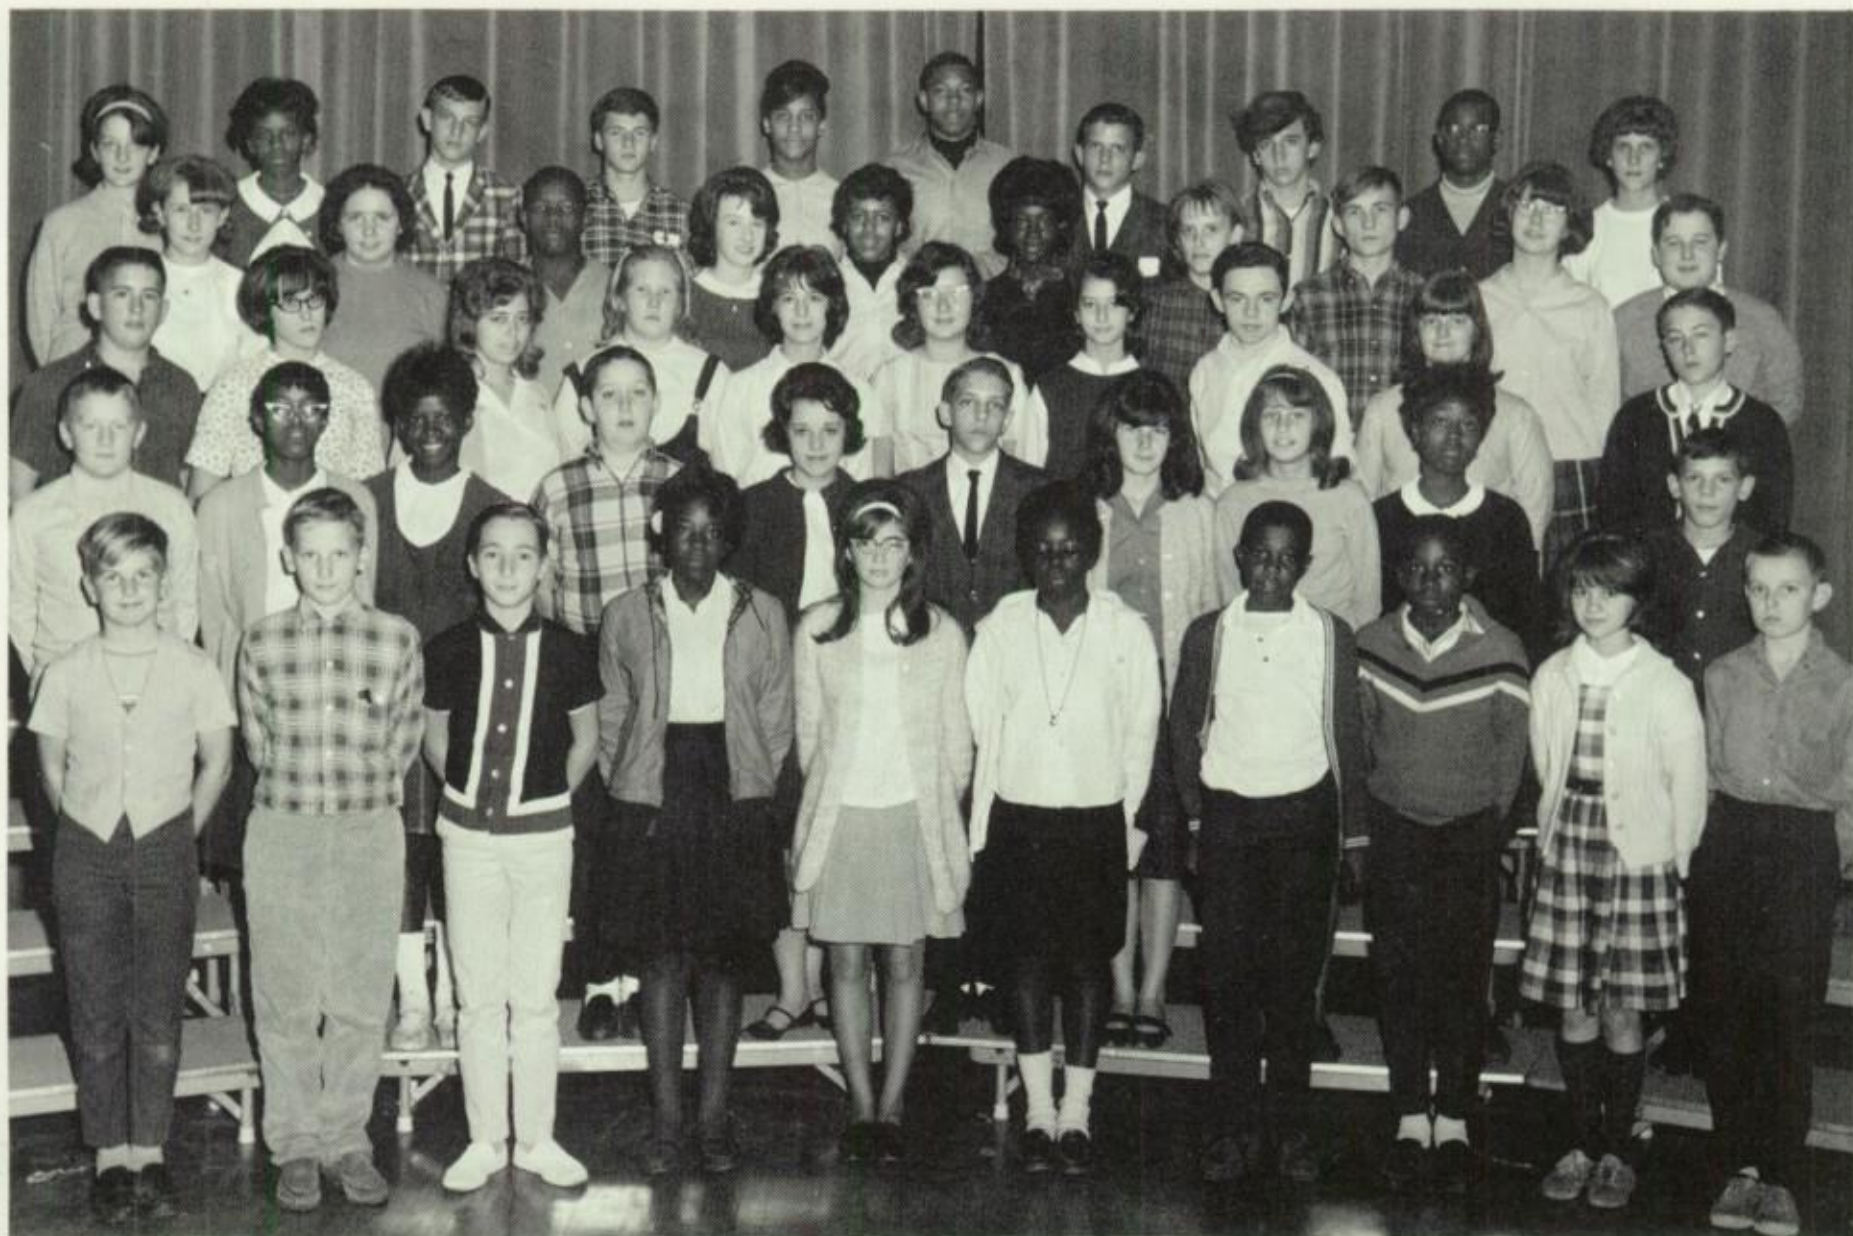

Rousing band routines are always part of a pep rally.

Hughes reserve cheerleaders talk over turns for cheering with the reserves from Withrow High.

An ensemble take-off on the football team was a highlight of one of the many pep assemblies held this year for school-spirited Huzites.

Junior High Student Council Executive Board: B. Koch, President; Mr. J. Bruck, Advisor; A. Craynon, Vice-President; D. Bay, Recording Secretary; S. Oakes, Corresponding Secretary; B. Nelson, Treasurer.

"Sorry, son, you'll have to go back down stairs again. This is a DOWN staircase," Pupils at Hughes heard these words very often this year, because the Student Councils passed a regulation making all staircases Up or Down. This was a major item on the Student Council agenda for this year, and most students cooperated in making the plan work.

The junior and senior high student councils are primarily concerned with serving the student body. In order to better understand the purpose of Student Council, President Ron Farthing and Vice-President Terri Daniel were sent to Ohio University this summer to attend a workshop sponsored by the Ohio Association of Student Councils.

Both student councils have done a workmanlike job in establishing contact between administration, faculty, and students. Homerooms receive copies of the minutes of each meeting.

Thanksgiving assembly is a time of sharing. Choruses furnish music, and students bring canned goods for distribution to needy families.

The victorious College Bowl team: Steve O'Banion, Mary Davidson, Ann Baty, and Nathaniel Johnson. The MC is Bill Rippetoe. This assembly has fast become a favorite at Hughes.

In both junior high and senior high, Hughes has chapters of the National Honor Society. This year Mr. Metz shares the sponsorship of the junior high group with Miss Hollweck. They are proud of their young scholars who achieve a high degree of excellence in all their subjects. Recognition from teachers and parents comes to the members at a spring banquet, always well-planned and well-attended.

Honor students in senior high continue to uphold the four-fold Society purpose of Character, Leadership, Service and Scholarship. This year's service project, spearheaded by Tim Jeffries, president, and Ken Montag, project chairman, was to gather, repair, and distribute toys and games at Christmas. As a result of this successful project, over fifty needy families had a brighter Christmas.

The "College Bowl" assembly program, so popular with the student body, has become traditional.

As sponsor, Miss Kloak supervises the induction of members, who are required to have at least a 3.2 academic average.

Senior Honor Society officers Judi Morrison, John Benne, Rosemary Stelbasky, and Tim Jeffries discuss future Society activities.

Initiation of senior high students into the National Honor Society usually calls for the annual tea, held each year in the library.

Hughes Chapter of DECA Keeps Active With Work, Fun

"These are the best apples there are," Gary Hummeldorf tells his customer at a Kroger store in Clifton.

"Here's your change and thank you!" one of Mr. Siddall's merchandising students tells a customer. Twenty-five selected seniors in the class learn the principles of salesmanship, advertising, and general business. They also work at various department stores, gas stations, and other companies from fifteen to twenty-five hours weekly. This enables them to earn money while attending school.

These students make up the Hughes chapter of Distributive Education Clubs of America, called D.E.C.A. for short. Their main service project is operating the school bookstore before school and during lunch hour. A money-making project is the sale of large suckers to seniors on Pigtail-Bowtie Day held usually in the fall.

For fun and learning, too, D.E.C.A. makes visits to outstanding businesses in the city, such as Procter and Gamble and Husman Potato Chip Company.

Each year members from Hughes participate in merchandising displays and contests in district, regional, and sometimes state and national meetings of D.E.C.A.

In the Better Sportswear Department of Pogue's, Barbara Fisher makes a sale to one of her many customers. Barbara takes merchandising.

Pretty New Pins Signify Membership in Le Cercle Francais

What's new with the French Club this year? For the first time, members have obtained and proudly wear their beautiful pins. Monthly meetings of Le Cercle Français are presided over by Deborah Battle, president.

Again this year Mr. Arrington sponsors the club and assists the officers in planning the programs and activities.

The program enjoyed most was presented by Mrs. Kelso, who also teaches French at Hughes. Her movies, taken when she visited France last summer, proved most entertaining and educational.

The main social activity for members of the French Club is the traditional Christmas party. Roller-skating and the spring picnic provided fun for all.

Success of Projects Brings Keen Satisfaction to Y-Teens

A quiet classroom is interrupted by a munching and crackling sound. A previously empty wastebasket is suddenly filled with empty bags. Y-Teens have struck again! The potato chip sale is always one of the most successful of the school year. Besides conducting this event, Y-Teens provides dances and bake sales, sponsors bowling parties and ice-skating parties for its numerous members, and participates in the YWCA program of activities. This is truly one of the most active clubs at Hughes.

Huzettes, under the new direction of Miss Eschmeyer, was an enthusiastic organization this year. The all-girls' club is noted for its hospitality at the teachers-parents "Christmas Tea". Among the other activities are bake sales and ushering for different school events.

A spring initiation is held for in-coming Huzettes, who must have and maintain high averages. Each girl carries the Huzettes name proudly, for it is a symbol of honor.

Club Membership Available to Spanish and Latin Students

One of the most active clubs at Hughes is the Spanish Club. Aided by movies, recordings and displays, members gain further appreciation of Spanish tradition and ways of life.

Its primary function is fun, however, which is achieved through parties, picnics and suppers with a Spanish flair.

Vive Club Espanol!

Although a small group, the Latin Club offers the opportunity for students of Latin to get better acquainted with each other and with the life and language of the ancient Romans. Regular meetings are held each month. Observance of Latin Day in the spring climaxes the club's activities for the year.

German, Health Careers Clubs Offer Opportunities to Joiners

"It's time for the question and answer session," announced David Terrell, president of German Club. Then, Christine Neuleitner, exchange student from Germany, provided answers for the questioning Hughes members. At a later meeting, Heinz Starkulla, whose father is associated with the University of Cincinnati, presented a similar program. The annual Christmas party featured an exchange of gifts, singing of carols in German, and feasting on German-type desserts.

Several club members accompanied Miss Herdler, sponsor, to the Vienna Boys' Choir concert and to lectures about Germany, given at University of Cincinnati.

Are you interested in a career pertaining to health? Then Health Careers Club is the club for you. Although the members are usually girls, boys planning to be pharmacists, doctors, or X-ray technicians may also join the club.

At meetings, discussions are held about different types of work in the field of health, especially nursing. Opportunities in the field are stressed along with qualifications for entrance and training required. Movies emphasize the need for nurses and also point out the rewards of the profession. Several hospitals invite students to Health Careers Days.

Cinsee Club, Spanish Honor Society Widen Horizons

A group of girls anxious to know more about their city revived the Cinsee Club this fall. They have been "back-stage" at WLW and Jewish Hospital, to mention two of their most interesting ventures. The medical technologist at Jewish Hospital, in her enthusiasm about her work, made hospital work as appealing as television work.

There are places to go and things to see in your own city of Cincinnati—why not join these girls next year? Mrs. Long sponsors the club, suggests places to visit, and sees that everyone has fun.

Pio Baraja is the Hughes chapter of the Spanish Honor Society. It is governed by the State and National Spanish Honor Society, whose motto is "Todo a Uno", "All for One."

The society sets up rigid standards for members. To apply for membership, a student must have and maintain a 3.2 average or better and be able to speak and write Spanish fluently. Membership in Pio Baraja honors excellence in Spanish study.

A State-wide convention is held annually in Columbus. Here, members of all chapters have a chance to meet and elect state officers.

Senior high students with interests in the various fields of dramatics were invited to join Sages at the beginning of the year. Sages is a club designed for students who wish to learn more about participation in drama. It is open to all senior high students.

This year, Sages did backstage work. Also, plans got underway for a series of dramatics workshops and for several trips to see plays being staged in Cincinnati.

Sages officers are: Terri Daniel, President; Linda Moore, Vice-President; Nancy Taylor, Secretary; and Carl Whittaker, Treasurer.

The dramatics Honor Club at Hughes is Thespians. President H. B. Garrett and Vice-President Joyce Courtier worked with Mr. Murphy, the sponsor, to plan activities for the year. Terri Daniel, secretary, and Hazel Starks, treasurer, assisted in the efficient operation of the club.

Thespians worked closely with Sages to insure a successful program of activity. The three-act comedy, "Dear Ruth", produced last fall, and the annual Merry-Go-Round, a variety show staged in February, were the major presentations this year. Best actors and actresses received "Thespie" awards for outstanding performance.

Teaching and Business Careers Hopefully in Their Future

Future Teachers of America stands for Honor, Leadership, and Ambition. Honor, because members consider it an honor to learn about the teaching profession. Leadership, because members have the privilege of taking over homerooms on mornings when teachers will be late or absent. Ambition, because members must prepare for a college career in order to become a teacher. Mrs. Werner sponsors the club, whose officers are: Sharon Harper, President; Elizabeth Howell, Vice-President; Rosalie Hargrove, Secretary; and Christine Harris, Treasurer.

Members take field trips and also serve as baby-sitters at Open House.

Organized in 1963 by Mr. Geraci, the Future Business Leaders of America Club continues to promote interest in business education. Two years of a business subject qualifies students for membership.

At the Ohio Business Teachers' Association meeting, F.B.L.A. members offered hospitality to visitors and served on decoration committees for the dinners.

A favorite activity is taking field trips to various Cincinnati businesses. In February, members of F.B.L.A. enjoyed a tour of the Procter and Gamble plant and offices.

A Frisch's official visited the club and showed films on the management and operation of his company.

Knowledge Seekers Join World Affairs and Science Clubs

One finds it difficult to stump a member of Junior Council on World Affairs about current events. This organization gives the members increased opportunity to express their opinions on world crises. Their favorite discussion this year was on the Vietnamese crisis.

At the meetings held every third Thursday, speakers are invited to discuss problems of the world. Ritchie Walker, president, Lawanda James, vice-president, Antoinette Harper, secretary, and Clara Reed, treasurer, conduct the business of the club and lead the discussion periods. However, Mr. Johnson, sponsor, participates as enthusiastically as the members.

Are you interested in science? Then see Carl Blackman, president of the Junior High Science Club, and make this a "scientific year". Members meet once a month, and under Mr. Cherry's guidance plan activities and projects that promote enthusiasm for science.

Places selected for visiting were the Natural History Museum, Eden Park Conservatory, Planetarium, and University of Cincinnati Geology Department.

The main project of the club was staging the annual Junior High Science Fair on March 3. Many entries were displayed and explained, and prizes were awarded to the best of each class.

GLORY

Hughes athletes strive to win glory for their Alma Mater in all types of athletic activities. Pride in achievement aids in bringing glory to Hughes to make her star shine more brightly than ever before.

Big Red Gridders Included on Public League All-star Squad

Charles Hudson blocks as Ellis Anderson releases his bomb against Woodward.

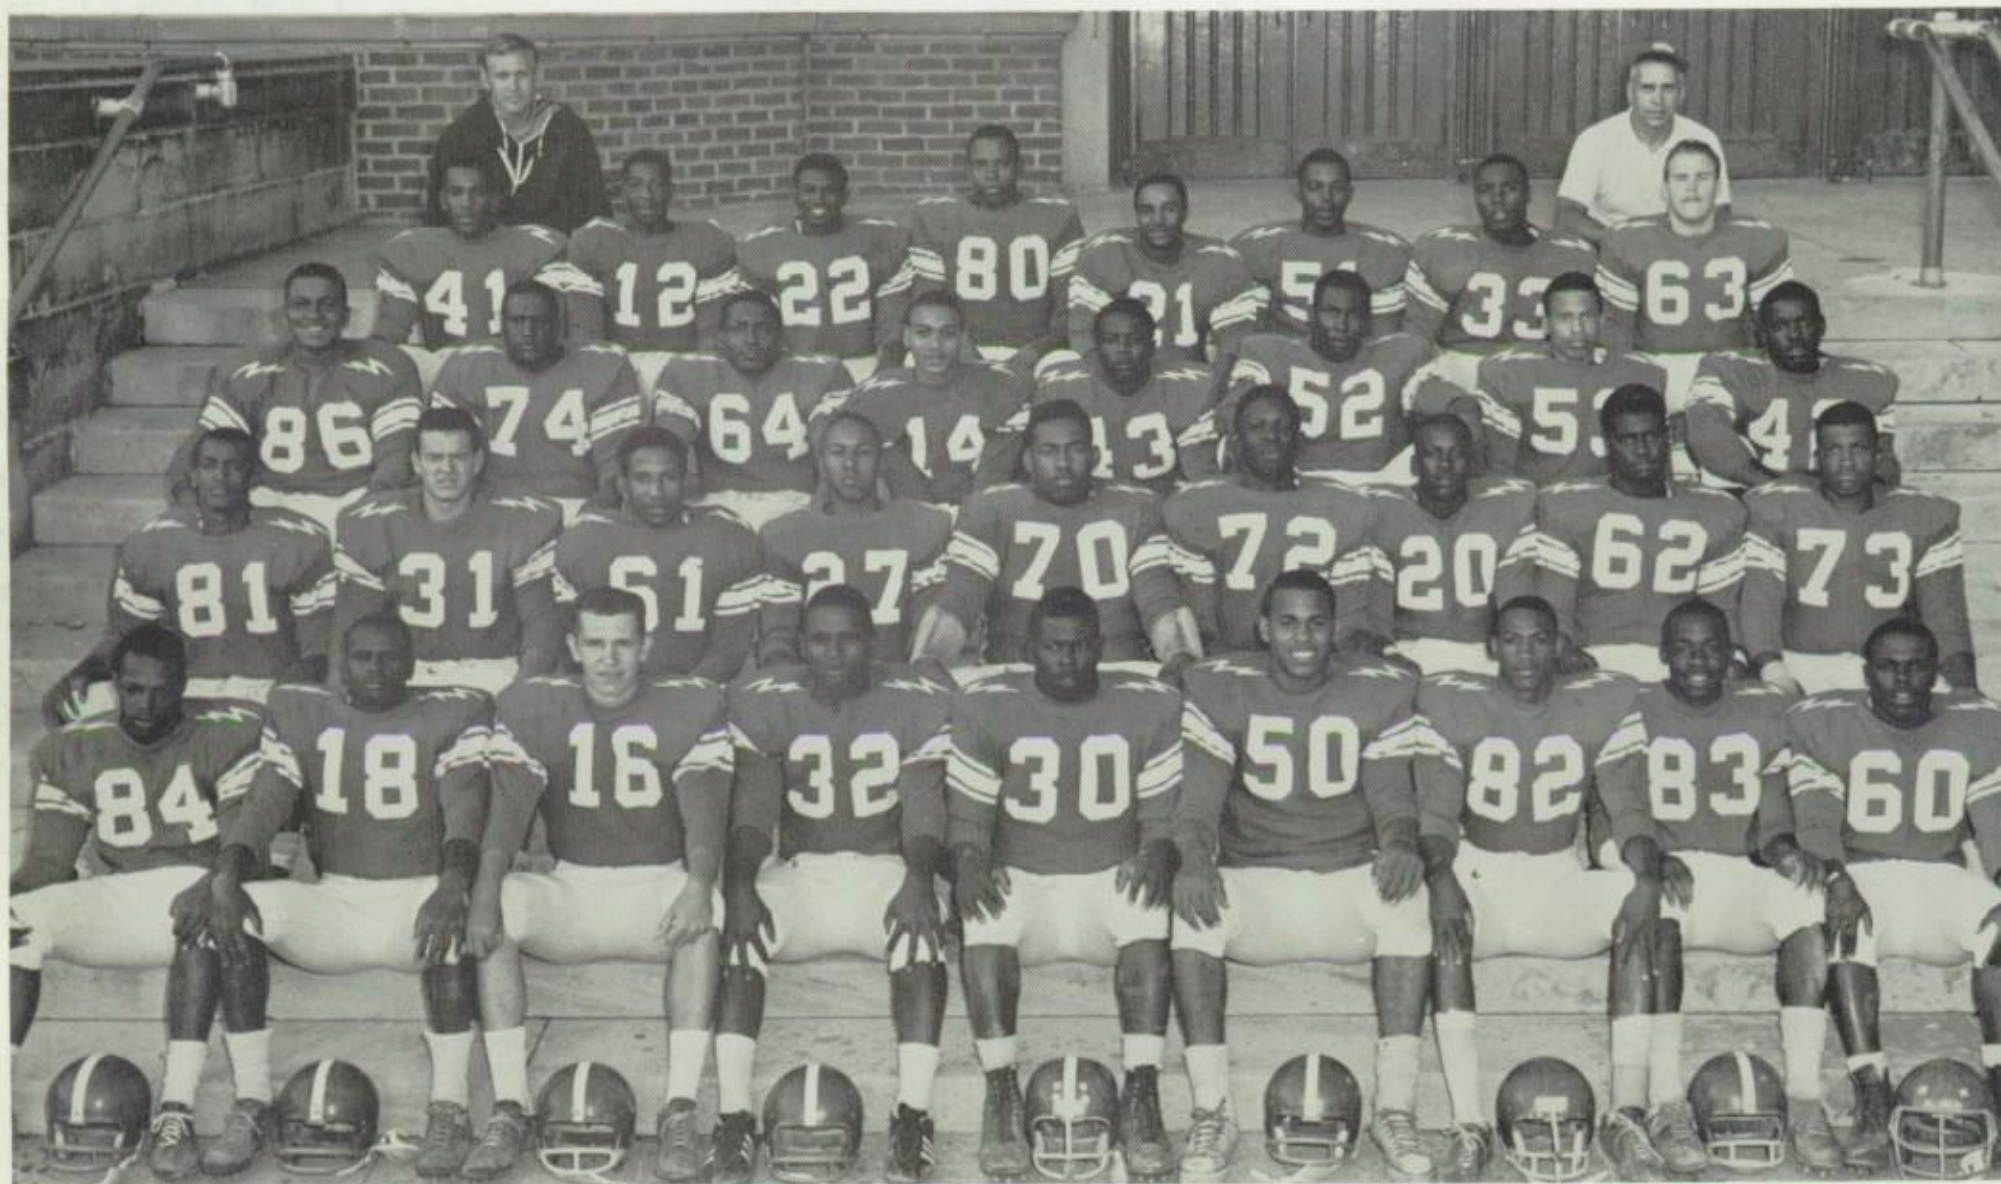

Coached by Howard Thomas with the assistance of Richard Barrett, the Big Reds finished a disappointing seventh in the Public High School League. The gridders scored sixty-eight points and ended the campaign with a 1-7-1 record. Only Hamilton Taft and champion Withrow held the Big Reds scoreless.

Hughes suffered its first loss to Moeller, which combined a strong running attack and rugged defense to give them a 26 to 8 victory. The Big Reds came back strong, however, to defeat Courter Tech, 22 to 18. Fine passing on the part of Ellis Anderson and good running by John Sager and Tom Sams contributed to the Hughes victory. In the third game, a strong running attack and tough defense again plagued the Big Reds, as Woodward's Bulldogs beat them 20 to 8. The next four encounters were marked by bad weather fumbles, and discouragement. Hughes lost to Walnut Hills Taft, Hamilton Taft and Withrow.

Desperately attempting to pull out of their slump, the Big Reds battled Aiken to a 6-6 tie. However, in a hard-fought contest, the Hughes team lost its final game to Western Hills by a 30-14 score.

Center Ken Blackwell and right end John Sager, on offense, and halfback James Dye, on defense, made the public high all-star squad. Honorable mention was given to Hester and Lockett.

Coach Otto's Little Reds Tie Taft for Reserve Championship

The Hughes Reserve team, under the leadership of Coach Ron Otto, shared the 1965 city championship with Taft.

Hughes defeated Woodward in its first encounter by a score of 14-6. Western Hills followed the path of Woodward by losing 16-0. The little Reds suffered their first and only loss to Taft in an 18-0 game.

The reserve squad came back strong to defeat Courter in the fourth game and Walnut Hills in the sixth. Although Hughes really lost its fifth game to Withrow by a score of 6-0, the Tigers forfeited the game because they used ineligible players. In the final game of the season, Hughes beat Aiken 20-0 to clinch a Little Reds tie with Taft for the Reserve city championship.

Outstanding men on the team were Ricardo Williams, whom the coach considered one of the best backs he'd ever seen, Fred Armstrong, quarterback, Phil Harrison and Jerome Lee. This year the Reserves bettered their usual high standing in the League.

Things worked out just fine in their last game, according to Richard Campbell, Coach Otto and Fred Armstrong.

Marvin Winkfield and Don Wagner lead the pack in a practice session at Coy Field. The Big Reds were coached by Mr. Rolfes.

Fifth Place Finish for Varsity Harriers; Second, for Reserves

Hughes cross-country runners made an acceptable showing in Public High School League competition by finishing in fifth place. The Big Red harriers, coached by Mr. Rolfes, came behind Walnut Hills in fourth place, Woodward in third, Withrow in second and Courter Technical, league champions.

The Hughes team, second in the first P.H.S.L. meet, collected 117 points. In the second and third meets, the Big Reds slipped to fifth place, with 111 and 92 points, respectively. They ended league competition with a total of 320 points. Aiken, Taft and Western Hills trailed Hughes.

In district competition, Hughes came in ninth out of twenty-one teams. Greg Ross, lead runner for Hughes, Dwight Quarles, Paul Chapman, Captain Don Wagner, and John King were the top runners for Varsity.

The Reserve harriers finished the season in excellent form. Having amassed a total of 239 points, they ranked second only to Woodward. The three top Reserve runners were Wayne Snoddy, Jim Hamner, and Marvin Winkfield.

Big Red Hoop Squad Earns Second-Place Tie in P.H.S.L.

Coach Rolfes reviews Big Red strategy against Withrow's Tigers.

The Hughes varsity basketball team started off the season by losing their first two games to Roger Bacon and Aiken. The Big Red hoopsters were to suffer defeat rarely, however, as they came back strong to defeat Moeller, Woodward, Monroe, Courter and Walnut Hills.

This wave of success was broken as the Big Reds lost a tightly played game with Taft, 58-56. The Hughes cagers entered the victory column again with a win over the Lakota Thunderbirds of Butler County.

In another nip-and-tuck game Withrow's Tigers edged Hughes, 62-61. Again the Big Reds bounced back to defeat Western Hills, Woodward, Courter and Walnut Hills. Unshaken by their earlier loss to Taft, Hughes fashioned an upset, by defeating the Senators, 63-51. Before their final win over Aiken, the Hughes basketeers lost another close game to Withrow.

Coached by Mr. Rolfes, Hughes finished in a tie with Woodward for second place in the P.H.S.L.

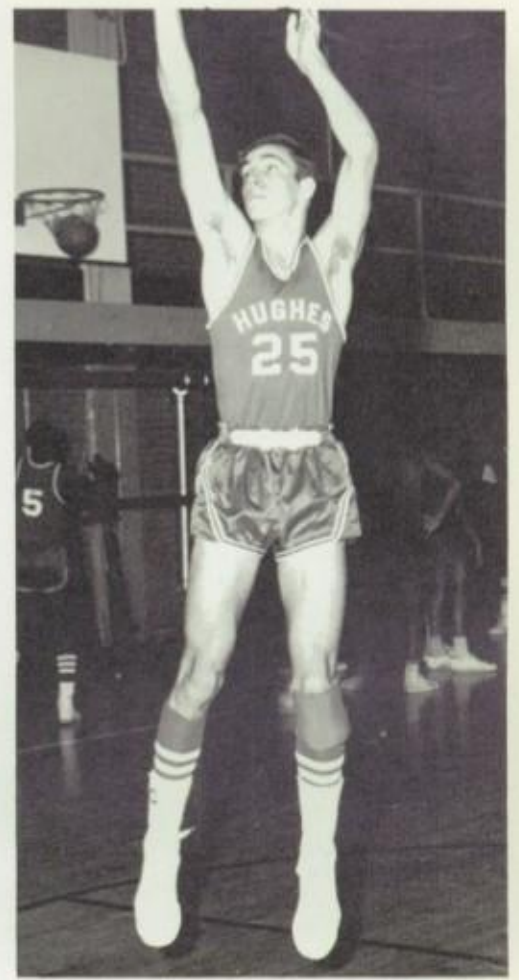

The Big Reds were led in scoring by 6'6" junior Danny Williams, who clipped the cords for a 14.0 average, eighth in the League. He was followed by senior sharpshooters Ed Casey 13.2, Gil Oliver 10.9, and flashy guard Richard West 10.5.

Reserve Cage Squad Finds Going Rough on Victory Road

The Reserve hoopsters finished the season in the red. The overall record for the Reserves was three wins and fifteen losses. The team scored two wins against twelve losses in league play. Although low on wins, the Little Reds played the game in the best tradition of Hughes sportsmanship. Coach Harold Gann, in his first year at Hughes, commended the boys on their hustle and team spirit.

The Little Reds clipped the wings of Aiken's Little Falcons in the second game of the season, for their first win. In later games, Walnut Hills and Lakota were also victims of the skillful ball-handling tactics of the Hughes athletes.

Netters Swing Those Rackets for All They're Worth

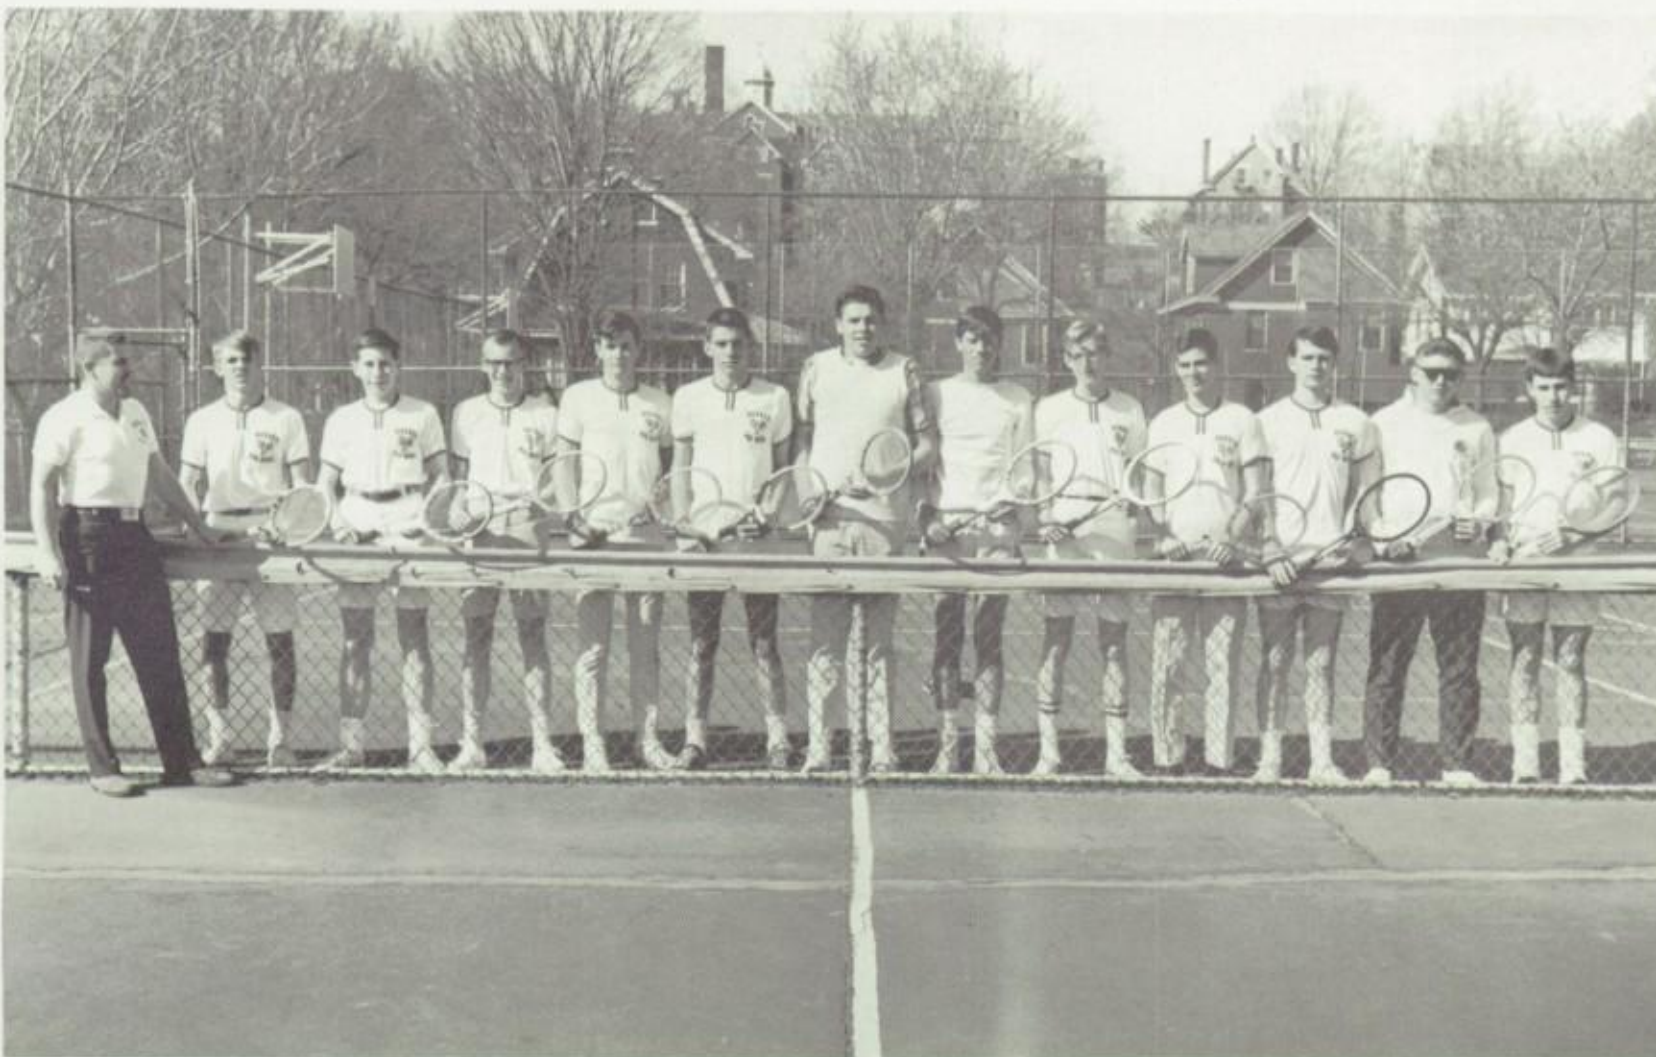

The Hughes High tennis team found trouble in Public High School League competition last year. Although the netters had a losing season, they advanced from three wins to eight wins in 1965. Their only league victory was over Aiken. Other teams that fell before the Big Red netmen were Madeira (twice), Green Hills, Anderson, and three Northern Kentucky schools—Highlands, Erlanger Lloyd, and Covington Catholic.

This year's team has many experienced players returning, and Coach Art Weil is optimistic about success in '66. Since there are few seniors on the team, many underclassmen with experience will return to form the nucleus of the '67 team.

1965 Big Red Tracksters Reign as Champions During Year

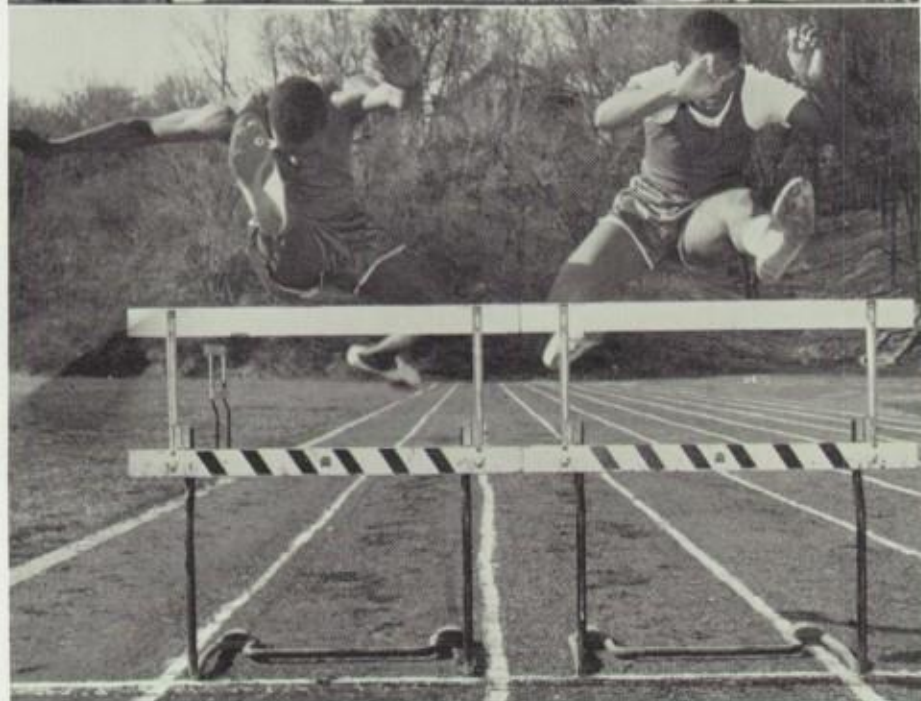

Guided by Coach Richard Barrett, the 1965 Big Red track team brought high tribute to Hughes. The experienced Hughes tracksters won first place at the Public High League Meet. Daryl Garland in the high hurdles and the 880 relay team of Grissom, Sams, Austin and Wills set new records. Full of determination, the team went on to take top spot in the Southwestern District. In a fine show of teamwork and sportsmanship, the Big Reds won the meet with twenty-five and a half points over the nearest rival. The Big Reds set records in this meet, also, as Bill Thomas broke the record for the 440 dash and Daryl Garland bettered the high hurdle mark.

At the Public High Invitational Meet, Hughes again led the pack. The 480 shuttle team of Garland, Burden, Slaughter and Davis set a meet record with a time of 56.9, which proved to be the second best high school time in the nation for 1965. Also breaking records were the 880 relay team of Grissom, Wills, Austin and Sams; the sprint medley relay team of Grissom, Wills, Austin and Thomas; and Daryl Garland in the high hurdles.

Coach Barrett checks the form of starters C. Holman, N. Parks, T. Sams and L. Daniels.

Tom Sams hands baton to Holman in relay practice.

Ray Guorant and Phil Jasper stick close while going over.

Guerrant and Jasper show their form as they warm up for season.

Don Wagner has the lead as the sprinters run tight.

At the State Meet, Daryl Garland placed fifth in the high hurdles after stumbling over one hurdle, and Bill Thomas finished sixth in the 440 dash. The 880 relay team scored fifth in a field, starting with 413 teams.

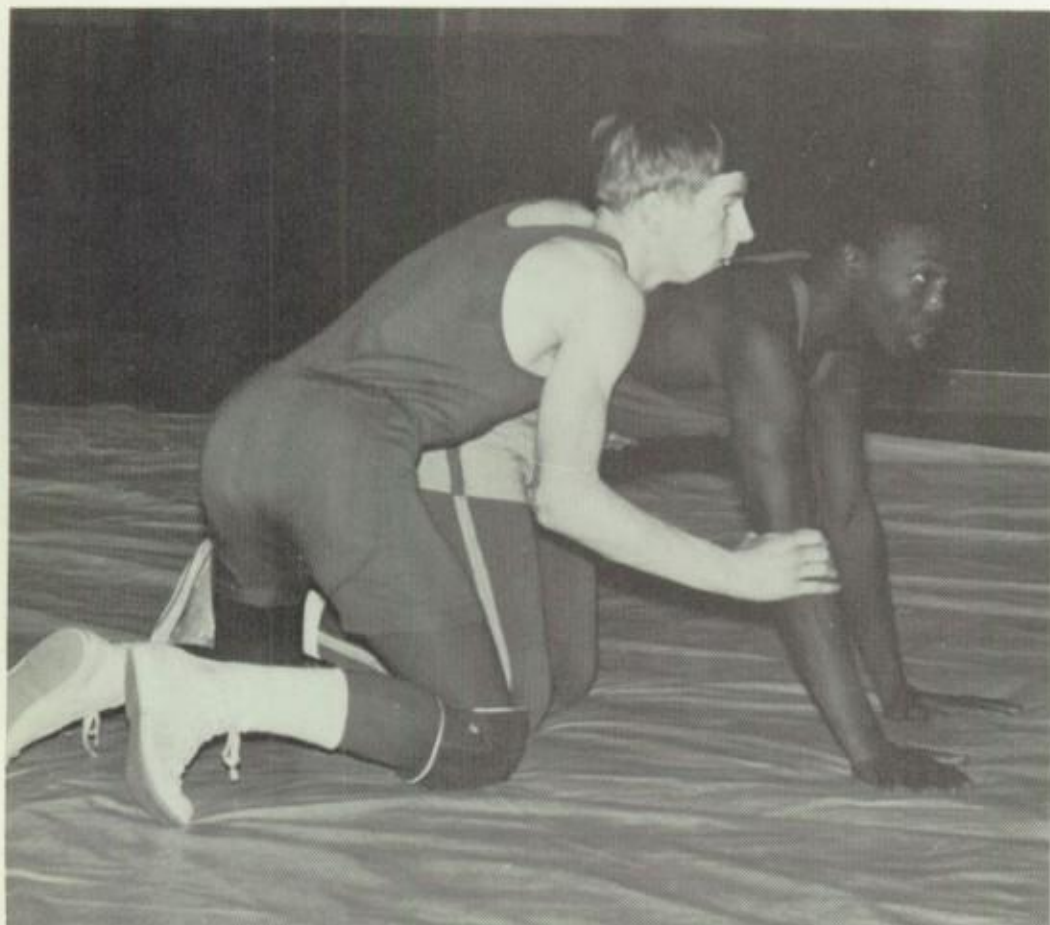

At the Athletics Assembly, Daryl Garland and Tom Sams received awards as highest scorer and best all-around, respectively.

Despite the loss of several experienced tracksters, Coach Barrett believes that hard work and determination will bring success to the '66 squad.

During early training, Jim Dye strains for added inches.

Big Red Wrestlers Win Championship Second Straight Year

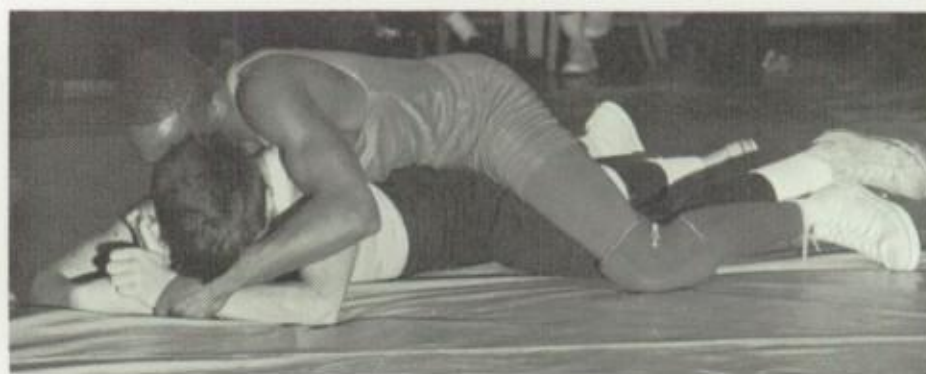

J. Smith, second-place 120-pounder in District, takes firm hold on Senator.

For the second consecutive year in Public High School League competition, the able leadership of Coach Ed Morris has taken the Hughes wrestling team to the P.H.S.L. championship. In fourteen games, the Big Red grapplers accumulated a total of twelve wins, one tie, and one loss, to retain the championship title. The wrestlers scored the highest number of points ever for a Cincinnati Public High School team and placed sixth in district competition, ranking highest of all P.H.S.L. teams.

The Big Reds never faltered, as they downed a long line of opponents, with Woodward and Aiken losing twice to powerful Hughes. Victories followed over Western Hills, Oak Hills, Sycamore, Middleton, St. Xavier and Mariemont. Taft, a major threat, split a game with the Big Reds, but lost the last league game to Hughes, 26 to 19.

Outstanding matmen for the champion Big Reds were Ray Turnbow with eight pins and thirty-five points, Jerry Smith with three pins and thirty-three points, Phil Bennie, who ranked third in his weight class at the district tournament, and Joe Craynon, who impressively led the league with fourteen pins in fourteen matches.

18-14 Record Preserves Tradition of Winning Baseball Season

"Sure, we can handle it." Co-captains Ed Casey and Jeff Reggin, returning lettermen, work closely with Coach Otto to try to gain a championship for Hughes.

Placing fourth in Public High School League play in '65 with an 18-14 record, the Big Red diamond stars maintained the tradition of winning more games than they lose. Hughes won the Morrow Invitational Tournament but Withrow eliminated the Big Reds from the District Tournament.

This year's batmen, coached by Mr. Otto and captained by Ed Casey and Jeff Reggin, hope to improve upon last year's record, which follows:

A small squad of varsity swimmers, the Big Reds displayed plenty of courage and determination in participating in tough League competition. The mermen got off to a slow start in several dual and quadrangular meets. Then, in the first Public High School League meet, Terry Mueller placed seventh in the 100-yard breast stroke, Don Huber came in ninth in the 100-yard butterfly, and Joe Mechley finished twelfth in the 400-yard free-style. These swimmers finished in the same positions in the second League meet.

In the final meet, Dan Huber repeated his ninth-place finish in the 100-yard butterfly but Terry Mueller and Joe Mechley each edged up one position in their respective events. These three mermen acquired a total of sixty-five points for the Big Reds. Wayne Snoddy, Bill Oehler, Howard Marsh and Art Dixon helped form various relay teams, which accumulated forty-four points.

Ransick's Runners and Jumpers Train for Junior High Track

The junior high track team works diligently preparing for their meets this spring. Two meets stand out on the team's schedule: The Public High School League Invitational and the P.H.S.L. Meet. The former consists mostly of relays and the latter includes all of the events, which produce the league titleholder.

The junior high team practices daily in all field and track events under one mile. Ernie Erkins is shaping up to become the team's number one trackster. He specializes in the 100- and 220-yard dashes.

Mr. Ransick, team coach and recent Hughes alumnus, feels that this team has the talent and confidence to win.

Junior High Mermen Learn Value of Training, Practice

When the call went out, a small group of junior high swimmers reported to Coach Strahler. They spent many hours at the pool practicing the various kinds of strokes, correct breathing and effective techniques for acquiring speed in the different distances.

At the end of the season, in three Public High School Meets, the Hughes boys picked up five, six and four points, respectively, to give them a total of fifteen points in league competition. Ken Morrow contributed three points, and the relay teams scored twelve.

To provide healthy exercise and entertainment for all students, the intramural program at Hughes now includes twenty-two events conducted throughout the year. Intramurals began an expanded version in 1961-62 on an experimental basis. A year later the program was made permanent by the Board of Education and it has been adopted by schools throughout the city in one form or another.

Interest remains high among junior high students but Mr. Grimes, intramural director, urges more senior high boys to participate.

Assisting Mr. Grimes are thirteen student managers. They give out equipment, officiate at the games, and list the points earned. Individual and homeroom awards are given.

Get Vigor, Vitality, Vim, and Keep in Trim . . Yea, G.A.A.!

On your mark, get set, go! G.A.A. now includes several track events.

G.A.A. at Hughes stands for Go-Action-Always. The girls' gym buzzes with fun and activity, punctuated with shrill whistles from the referees—Mrs. Libbert, Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Zeisler. The G.A.A. program also includes outdoor sports. Modern dance and swimming attract many girls, who are interested in those activities.

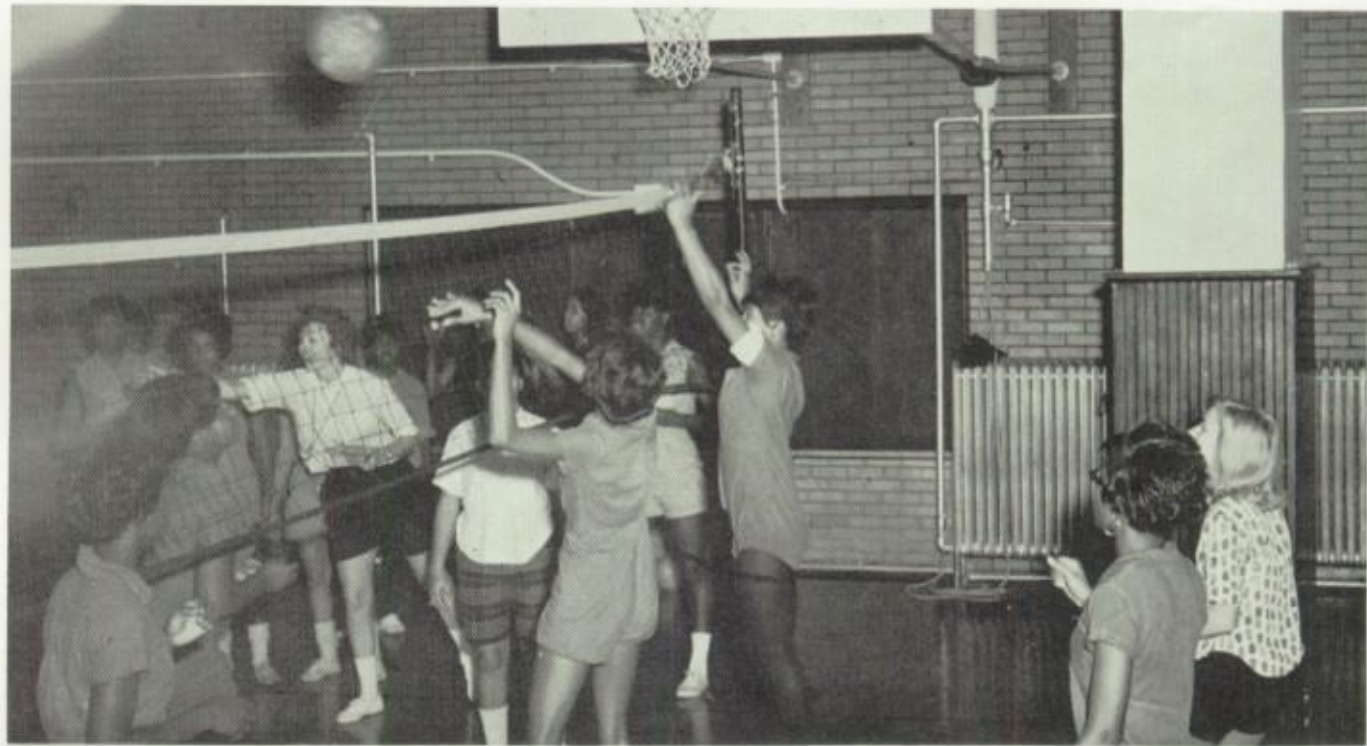

At playdays ending each sports season, Hughes girls have an opportunity to display their vigor and vim in battling girls from other high schools in the city. G.A.A. is proud of its skill and sportsmanship in competition.

To earn money for the traditional G.A.A. banquet, the girls sponsor an apple sale, a bake sale, and the "Mr. and Miss Hughes" dance.

Volleyball Season Provides Exciting Fun

Volleyball, one of the most popular sports, keeps the girls on the go. "Get the ball! It's yours! Don't let it hit the net!" Excitement reigns as the ball is moved back and forth over the net until finally the point is won. At playday, Hughes evened things out with two wins and two losses.

Leaping and tipping the ball over the net is Bertha Hargrove.

Hockey Teams Win Six at Annual Playday

G.A.A. starts off the year by strapping on shin guards and trying to ward off blows from hockey sticks in the wild excitement of making a goal. The girls practice hard under Mrs. Zeisler's supervision. Hockey, more than some of the other sports, requires alertness and speed, along with ability to take hard knocks. Team spirit and skill were developed during the hockey season, which came to a close with a highly successful performance of six wins and only two losses at the annual playday. Both junior and senior high girls participate in hockey.

Beginning with "ground-sticks", a tough game of hockey is now underway.

Spring Is Here, Get Out Tennis Rackets

When spring rolls around, girls interested in G.A.A. tennis head for the courts at Coy Field every Tuesday for practice. Girls who already know the basic fundamentals of the game develop skill enough to represent Hughes at the play-day held at Lunken Airport playfield in May. "Yea, Red! Yea, White! Serve that ball with all your might!"

Candy Foit smashes one over the net as G.A.A. tennis swings into action. Tennis is just one of the many outdoor sports offered.

Dribble, Pass, Shoot—a Sure Two Points!

From the time the girls dash out onto the basketball court until the final whistle blows, there is plenty of action and excitement. Using the basic techniques of dribbling, passing, pivoting and shooting, the G.A.A. teams learn how the game is played. "Yea, girls, look at that score! Say, girls, we want more!" "We'd better get some shooting practice now," advises Mrs. Zeisler. "Line-up, girls, and don't jump over that foul-line."

Practice makes perfect and the girls are ready for the basketball playday.

A jump shot starts off another quarter of play in this exciting game.

Free-throw shooting is just one of the many fine points of basketball practiced by the girls. It appears that this shot won't make it, girls!

Modern Dance Group Develops Grace, Poise

Participants in the modern dance portion of the G.A.A. program don their leotards every Monday afternoon and practice with determination under Mrs. Zeisler's instruction. The girls are interested in developing rhythmic movements with grace and poise. The Modern Dance Chorus performed artistically at the Merry-Go-Round to the music of "Baby Elephant Walk". The girls ended their activities by attending the Modern Dance Symposium held in the spring.

Modern dance groups practice for Merry-Go-Round and other programs.

Go Where the Action Is—To the Pool

Many water-lovers head for the swimming pool every Thursday afternoon during the G.A.A. season. Mrs. Henderson conducts practice and helps the girls learn various kinds of strokes. There's plenty of action while some girls are splashing along using the butterfly stroke, several others are developing a steady rhythm with their back stroke, and still others are trying to coordinate arm and leg movements of the breast stroke. Then there's a little lull before the girls form teams and race excitedly back and forth across the pool to gather as much speed as possible. Also, the more advanced swimmers study life-saving techniques.

Interested girls may join the swimming team and participate in meets.

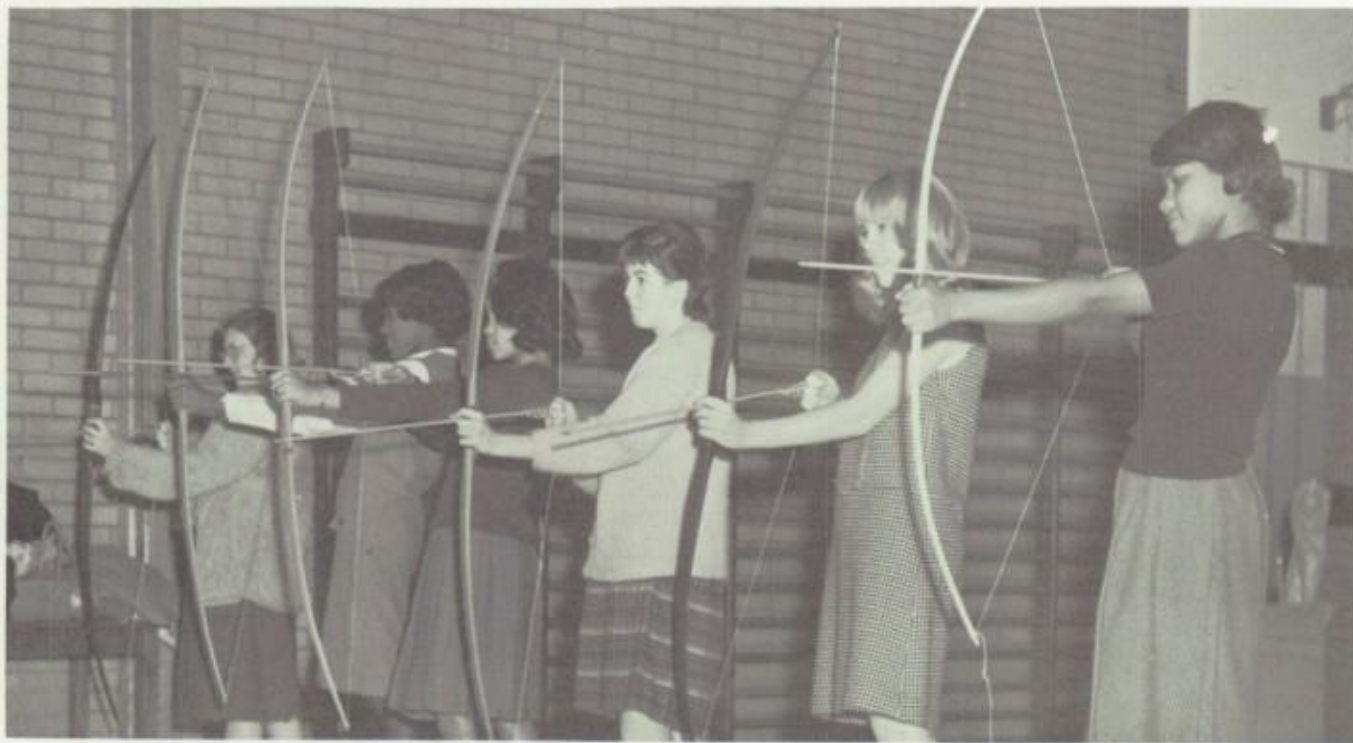

Sandy Settle and Pat Pattoon ready themselves for a fast diving start.

Here's the Target! Ready, Set, Aim!

Yes, your life is in danger if you walk into the girls' gym when archery practice is going on! But if you have a keen eye and strong arms, join the girls who enjoy this individual sport. At the beginning of the season, everyone learns to string the bow, to set the arrow in position, and to hit the bull's-eye. The best archers compete in the playday at Lunken Playfield.

Arrows fly during archery practice, as girls try to improve their skill.

Softball Attracts Large Crowd of Girls

The great number of girls coming out for softball indicates the popularity of this sport. Junior high girls are supervised by Mrs. Henderson and senior high girls, by Mrs. Libbert. Unless bad weather interferes, the girls use the upper section of Coy Field for their practice on Tuesdays and Thursdays during the spring sports season.

By participating in this team sport, the girls develop teamwork, quick-thinking, and a sense of fair play. Everybody grabs bats, balls, and gloves and takes his position on the field. The pitch comes in, the batter swings and the "blue team" gets the first run.

Biggest Buyers of ANNUALS

HAPPINESS

Happiness comes from doing things one enjoys whether it's cheering the Big Reds to victory, receiving applause at the Merry-Go-Round, reigning as prom queen, or flashing white boots a go-go.

Jingling change signifies typical Huzites taking time out for a call.

Hughes students are in the swing as they model the modern "in" look.

Huzites Keep in Step With the Latest "In" Fashion Trends

Being on the go-go is fun when you're swinging in your Hullabaloo a-go-go boots.

What is happiness to the average Huzite? It may be a close victory at a basketball game or a stage full of canned goods at the Thanksgiving Assembly, or even a ride home after school. It's an increase in ANNUAL sales, a victory dance, or a date for the junior-senior prom. All of these events help make up student life. Student life is built around the everyday occurrences and special events at school and is demonstrated in the way students dress and the way they act. It is a weekly club meeting, a special committee meeting, or a trip to Merry-Go-Round. It's a-go-go boots, granny dresses, and Pigtail-Bowtie Day. It's the grin on a champion wrestler's face after a hard-fought match. Many happy moments in the life of a Huzite make him enthusiastic about school.

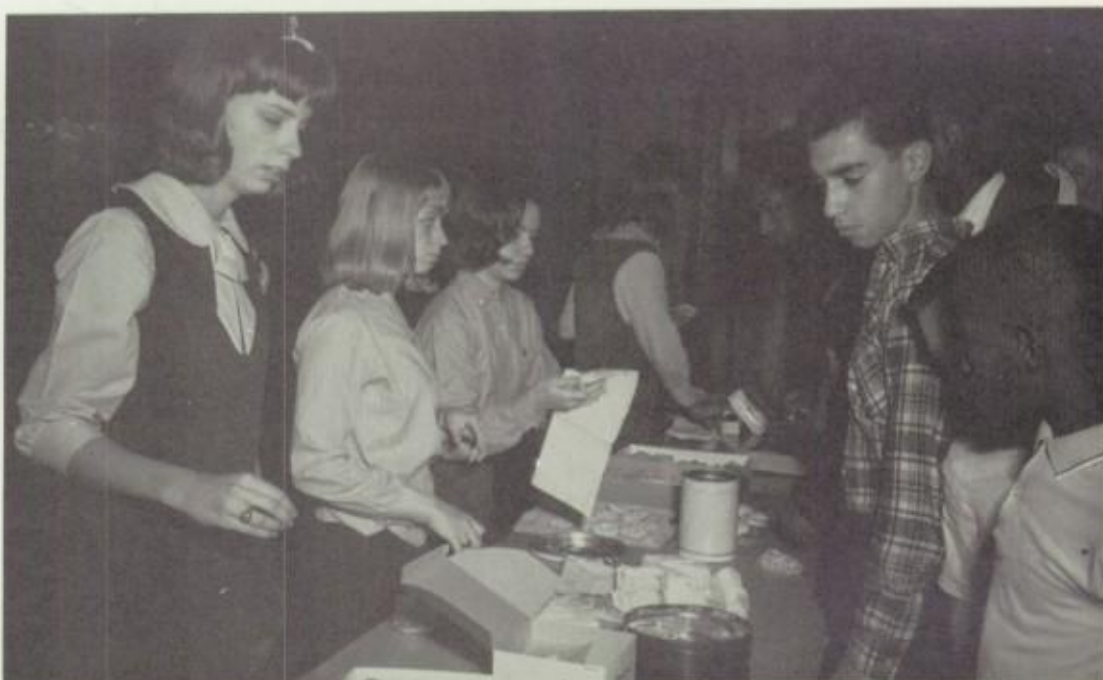

"Can I hitch a ride?" asks Ruby Buttree.
"Sure, as long as you can pay the carfare,"
Keith Cordes and Rosemary Stelbasky agree.

EXCELLENCE

Various activities at Hughes provide opportunities for ambitious and interested students to channel their energy into productive outlets. The ultimate in excellence is achieved by a maximum effort.

The annual fall production was "Dear Ruth". The curtain call brings the show to a happy end.

New Dramatics Director Produces "Dear Ruth," Successfully

Miriam tells the story of how Bill came home to marry her sister Ruth.

Each year, when November rolls around, Hughes students can expect the annual fall Thespian production. This year was no exception, as the Thespians presented the comedy "Dear Ruth" in the Hughes auditorium. "Dear Ruth" is the story of a young girl who tries to boost the morale of the boys overseas by writing to them, using her older sister's name and picture. Complications arise when one of the soldiers comes home to marry Ruth, who is already engaged and is completely unaware of what has taken place. This provides for a hilarious play from beginning to end.

New to Hughes this year is Mr. Murphy, the director, affectionately known as 'Mr. Murph' to the cast and crew. He and the cast worked hard for a month to put the play together and to make Mr. Murphy's first play at Hughes a huge success. Mr. Murphy has proven himself quite capable of handling the dramatics chores at Hughes.

The play's exhausting pace becomes too much for Mr. Wilkins (C. Whittaker) and Miriam (R. Levie).

Seventeenth Annual Merry-Go-Round, Variety Show Format

This year's Merry-Go-Round brought the Variety Show back to the Hughes stage. The show was divided into five sections: The Circus Parade, Circus People, Circus Antics, Circus Animals and Circus Lovers. Written by Miss Vitali, the show was directed by Mr. Murphy. Vocal numbers were handled by Miss Barker and Mr. Ayer. The special stage band, directed by Mr. Bruner, played throughout the show.

Every act was a crowd-pleaser, but the colorful carrousel, made by Mr. Wilson and Mr. Newsom, was the hit of the show!

The Merry-Go-Round was a complete success and attracted many people to the Hughes auditorium.

Some of the special numbers were done by R. Levie, C. Foit and T. Daniel, S. Porter (choreographer), and T. Gear.

Renamed Senior Choir Now Called Hughes Senior Chorale

Senior Chorale Officers—Gwen Carter, Vice-President; Ivey Smith, President; Christine Mingo, Secretary; Phyllis Booker, Treasurer.

Because of some beneficial reorganization of the vocal classes in senior high, there are now six choirs at Hughes, two in the junior high and four in the senior high. Junior high choirs are under the direction of Miss Barker, who is in her sixth year with the Hughes Music Department. Miss Barker has been very successful in training young singers for future senior high choral work.

Senior high choirs are directed by Mr. Ayer, in his third year at Hughes. New to Hughes this year is the Sophomore Choir. It was felt that sophomores should be given the experience of performing together for a year before going on to work in other senior high choirs. Other choral groups are Senior Choir, formerly known as Mixed Chorus; Senior Chorale, formerly Senior Choir; and Senior Choral Ensemble. These groups perform at all major school concerts and in various contests. Ensemble also performs outside of school, occasionally on television.

Senior choirs, besides performing at school functions, have this year decided to try to improve school spirit at Hughes and to make Hughes students more active in school-related activities. In the beginning of the school year, they organized an ice-skating party at Cincinnati Gardens, open to anyone in the school who wished to attend. The party with about 400 in attendance, was enjoyed by all, even those who had spills! Elated with their success, choir members decided that they could do even more by sponsoring a dance. The Senior Choir dance took place after one of the first basketball games and again proved to be very successful, insuring more such projects in the future.

Whether it's entertaining Hughes students or promoting school spirit, the Hughes choral groups make themselves heard!

Big Red Band Sets Stage For Great Display of Spirit

Under the direction of Mr. Bruner, new band director at Hughes this year, the Big Reds Marching Band made its debut during the football season. With snappy marching and clever formations, the good-looking, well-trained band provided many exciting half-time shows for stalwart football fans. The band also performed at several concerts, and some of its members made up the Merry-Go-Round Band.

Band officers this year were designated by military rank. The captain was Gilbert Oliver and the first lieutenant was John Kreimer. They assisted Mr. Bruner with uniforms, music and the candy project.

An integral part of the band is the squad of majorettes, captained this year by Rosemary Stelbasky and Brenda Phelps. After try-outs last May, the '65-'66 squad was selected. During the summer, the girls practiced under the supervision of Miss Vitali and were united with drum major Clifford Davis at the beginning of this school year.

Junior High Band Performs at Many School Functions

This trio makes pretty music—Pete Stites, Alex Weber, and Betty Fey.

This year the Hughes Junior High Band is composed of twenty-five members conducted by Mr. Bruner. They play in various junior high assemblies and in all the concerts at Hughes.

The band does not have special uniforms this year because the junior high is not a marching band; however, it could be.

The Junior High Band is a preparation for junior high people to gain experience so they can move into the Senior High Band when they enter the tenth grade. In order to be in the Senior High Marching Band a student must either have had past experience in the Junior High Band at Hughes or be recommended from his previous Junior High School. The Junior High Band has presented Hughes with many fine musicians.

Orchestra Takes Bow at Annual Christmas Concert

The Hughes High School senior concert orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Bruner, made its successful debut at this year's annual Christmas Concert. The orchestra is composed of twenty-five members. It supplements the Merry-Go-Round Band and the Hughes Stage Band and performs annually at the Spring Concert and the Jazz Festival.

The orchestra consists of string and wind instrumentalists and a small percussion section. These members meet regularly first period every morning, with special sectional practices scheduled by Mr. Bruner. This gives Mr. Bruner a chance to work with each member of each section individually.

The members of the orchestra work diligently to make each performance a success, and have succeeded admirably in doing so. They have become an integral part of the Hughes success story.

Majorette Brenda Phelps' instrument for band is the glockenspiel.

Trumpets: E. Miller, G. Frey, J. Smith, M. Rocquemore, F. Ramsey, H. Garrett, J. Cocco, G. Haendel, P. Glass.

Clarinets: L. Rouff, M. Stemmer, K. Moerlein, C. Schaefer, J. Lunsford, M. Miller, B. King, R. Loudermilk, J. Benne, V. Friason, M. Parks.

Gargoyle Receives New Equipment, Prints Paper at School

Page editors, G. Frey, C. Brooks, and P. McNeely are always looking for new gimmicks.

The first issue of the Gargoyle was published in November, under the supervision of journalism teacher Mr. Stephens and editor-in-chief Don Wagner. The delay was necessitated by a change in printing procedure.

This year, the paper is issued monthly. Students are able to read about school happenings for only five cents, due to the fact that a new printing press was purchased for Hughes. This enables the graphic arts department to print the papers more cheaply.

The staff editors and reporters write news, features, articles, and editorials. Circulation is handled by the business staff, along with homeroom representatives. Student photographers are responsible for all pictures contained in the Gargoyle. Staff members hope that the Gargoyle will continue its previous standard of excellence.

The highlight of the year for Susan Keller, Harline Jones, Kathy Rose, and Reginald Maxton was accompanying Mr. Stephens to the National Press Association convention in Chicago during the Thanksgiving holiday.

D. Dyson, L. Bryant, L. Chapman, K. Rose, J. Goodriche, and M. Smith discuss the next issue.

Photography and art work are done by L. Willoughby, J. Caplinger, L. Robinson, J. Easterling and T. Shaw.

New press pleases R. Brewer, D. Walls, and H. Neal.

Proofreaders F. Mathis, P. Welch, B. Phelps, S. Keller, B. Rippetoe and B. Centers study examples of good journalism.

Mr. Stephens and editor Don Wagner look over the next issue of the Gargoyle.

E. Beecroft and G. Adams make use of new typesetter.

Paper work and financing are two main jobs of H. Jones, L. Famous, E. Fette and K. Schnell.

Staff Responsible for Editing and Selling '66 Yearbook

This year's ANNUAL staff was headed by co-editors Terri Daniel and Ken Montag. The entire staff was selected last June, when work on the 1966 ANNUAL officially began. Under the supervision of Miss Reynolds, the ANNUAL advisor, a theme and cover colors were chosen. At the end of June, Miss Reynolds and the co-editors journeyed to Nashville to complete the fundamental plans. The result was a "dummy", after which the staff patterned its work.

The staff consists of twenty-five seniors, chosen by Miss Reynolds on the basis of their ability and interest. There are three sub-staffs: the literary staff, which handles all pictures and written copy and is under the direction of Miss Reynolds; the art staff, headed by Miss Adomeit, which designed the cover and illustrations; and the business staff, which manages all financial matters, including advertising and subscriptions. This staff is headed by Mrs. Brown, new to the ANNUAL this year.

The ANNUAL staff sincerely hopes that the Hughes star will continue to shine brightly for all Hughes students and alumni in the future and that the '66 ANNUAL has helped to add to its glow. Yea, Red! Yea, White!

B. Goetz and M. Frommel take many of the informal pictures.

The art staff, T. Shaw, M. Stiebel, M. Coleman, D. Madden, and C. Foit, under the supervision of Miss Adomeit, is responsible for all art work.

The literary staff has the job of putting together this year's ANNUAL. From left to right they are: D. Wulforth, S. Lett, J. Courtier, M. Taylor, H. Bailey, J. Morrison, S. Harper, C. Spikes, E. Howell, W. Simmons, R. King and B. Armstrong.

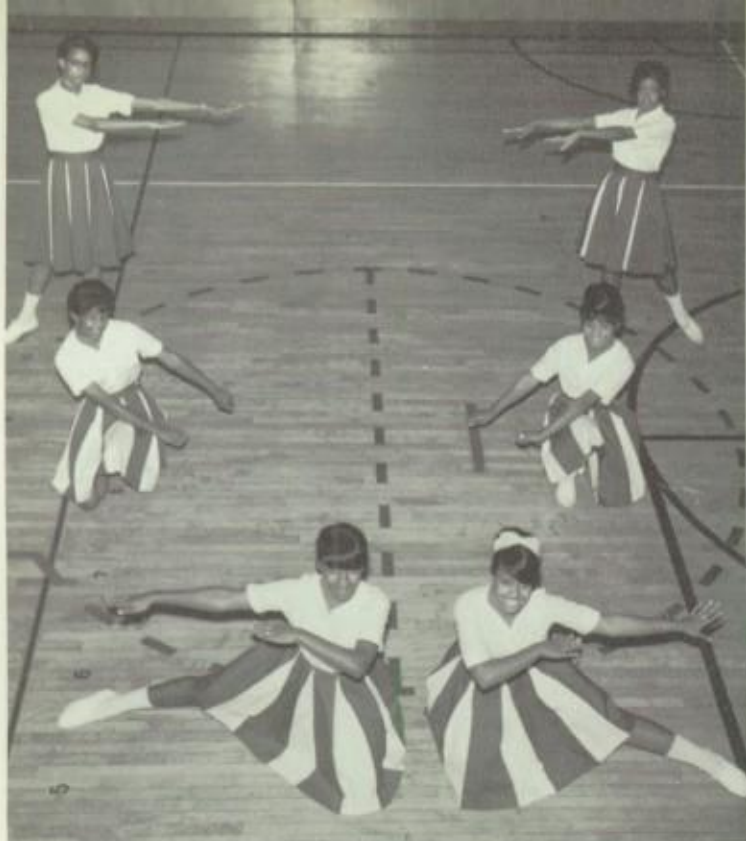

The sale of this year's ANNUAL was handled by Mrs. Brown and her staff: R. Quinlan, E. Crawford, A. Scheuermann, S. Barnett, M. Reed, N. Leigh, A. Harper and S. Roberts.

Along with Miss Reynolds, Ken Montag and Terri Daniel look over the dummy for the ANNUAL of '66.

Sue Barnett helps custodians steady the ladder, while Art Scheuermann puts up attractive sign made by art staff. Subscriptions increased this year.

Reserve Cheerleaders: G. Carter, B. Lockett, C. Mitchell, B. Hargrove, Captains: D. Chambers and S. Oliver.

Production Staff: J. Assum, C. Redd, S. Roberts, C. Brown, J. Mitchell, D. Dean, J. Voss, M. Robinson, Miss Levine and S. Greer.

Junior High Cheerleaders—Standing: Linda Jewell, Elaine Watson, Jackie Schmidt. Kneeling: Brenda Cordell, Theodora Howard, Trudy Brown.

Varsity Cheerleaders: D. Bolan, Captain; J. Courtier, Co-Captain; D. Rayney, R. Leigh, B. Goetz, F. Armstrong, B. Johnson, S. Coore, C. Rice, and D. Chenault.

Student Helpers Perform Services, Gain Experience

Visual Aids—Bottom Row: R. Emerson, R. Turnbow, M. Shaw, J. Moats, W. Thrash, D. Rayney. Second Row: D. Lampton, D. Begley, C. Washington, R. Leigh, G. Turner, W. Lige, C. Whigham.

A new addition to this year's Varsity Cheerleaders squad for football was four boys. They weren't permanent but they served as a means for louder yelling. The Varsity squad was not the only squad at Hughes. The Reserve squad cheered at its own football and basketball games as did the Junior High squad at its games. The Reserve and Junior High squads were chosen at the end of last year and practiced all summer.

This year's visual aids crew was again under the supervision of Mr. Johnstone. All movies and projectors were handled by these boys.

Again this year Miss Levine had the Production Staff. Any teacher who wanted to have material mimeographed would let Miss Levine's staff do the job.

SELF-RESPECT

Hughes students work for self-respect in all their endeavors. The proud Hughes tradition is upheld by the achievements of both seniors and underclassmen, ever inspired and guided by her star.

What does being a senior mean to the Class of '66? Most seniors realize that the class has reached a position of leadership among Hughes High School students. High school days are ending, and the future is holding out the challenge of college, career, and civic responsibility.

Putting on class rings for the first time is now a memory. Events such as Pigtail-Bowtie Day, Christmas party, candy sale, junior-senior prom and Class Day have helped to unite the class. Its final activity, Graduation, comes on June 15.

Whenever the name and fame of Hughes are mentioned, the Class of '66 can say with gratitude and pride, "Hughes is our Alma Mater."

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

By Miss Alice Brand, Valedictorian, Class of '65

Rev. Bostow, Mr. Pierce, Mr. Sutton, members of the faculty of Hughes High School, Honored Guests, proud parents, and fellow graduates:

It is an honor and a pleasure to speak tonight at this commencement.

Commencement is, in a very real sense, the beginning of many new experiences. It is the beginning of our acceptance into the adult world. It is the beginning of a new responsibility for our own actions. It is the beginning of a new responsibility for our own financial and social independence. But, most of all, commencement is the beginning of our search for our purpose in life.

Purposeful living is based on an understanding of four points: where we are, who we are, where we are going, and how we hope to get there.

Tonight, let us think about each of these points individually. First, where are we? We are in a universe which challenges us on to more and more exploration. We live in a great nation which is still plagued with problems of poverty and civil rights.

But more important to us as individuals, we are at a crossroad of our lives—one of the most important crossroads we will ever face. Looking backward, we can see that we, as graduating seniors, have walked a fairly common path. Along the way we have gathered knowledge, skills, and leadership experience which should benefit us throughout life. For these opportunities we owe our thanks to parents, teachers and counselors. Looking forward, we see that soon the road will diverge, opening to each of us new opportunities. But before we choose a pathway, we must, first, have a thorough understanding of ourselves.

Ourselves?

Who are we, anyway? You might say we are a combination of interests and abilities, successes and failures, likes and dislikes, fears and hopes. Because of all these factors, we as children and adolescents have been puzzled by the question, "Who am I?" But now, on the verge of adulthood, we should have a fair understanding of what talents we possess and where our interests lie, so that we can direct our lives into the proper fields. In other words, if we have discovered that we have both talent and interest in mathematics while we are lacking in verbal ability, we would be foolish to try to become authors, but rather should choose a field such as statistics or engineering. In any event, who we are—as shown by our interests and abilities—determines where we are going.

Then, where are we going? Soon the Class of '65 will scatter, some to take jobs, some to go into military service, some to be married, and some to pursue their education in college or elsewhere. Yet regardless of what our future plans may be, we all need a vision and a goal.

The novelist, James Allen, has given us these words:

"He who cherishes a beautiful vision, a lofty ideal in his heart, will one day realize it. Columbus cherished a vision of another world, and he discovered it; Copernicus fostered a vision of a multiplicity of worlds and a wider universe, and he revealed it; Buddha beheld the vision of a spiritual world of stainless beauty and perfect peace and he entered into it."

In this way, Allen shows how visions and realities exist in almost a cause-and-effect relationship. However, if we are not willing to supplement our visions with effective work, they will never be realized. And, of course, when our visions are not real goals, but rather idle wishes, they will never come true.

There is something more about goals. We must look beyond our professional goal to our place in society, if we want to live as total persons. Everyone has many roles to fulfill. For instance, a mechanic is not only a mechanic, but also, perhaps, a husband, a parent, a citizen, a human being. If he has goals for every aspect of his living, he will strive to be not only a good mechanic, but also to be a loving husband, a guiding parent, an active citizen and a continually growing human being.

Now that we have analyzed who we are, where we are and where we are going, we come to the final question: How do we get there?

Further education, whether at College or in the world, is the first step toward achievement. Although we have made a good beginning, we must never stop learning. But education alone is not enough. We are challenged to put our knowledge to work. This challenge was presented to one of the first graduating classes of Hughes High School. And I quote from the 1912 Annual a statement which is just as true today as it was then.

"Education must be measured by the extent that it increases the individual's ability to uplift the world. Great men of all centuries stood head and shoulders above contemporaries, not because of the knowledge they possessed, but because of the knowledge they put into practice. For history summarizes executed thought."

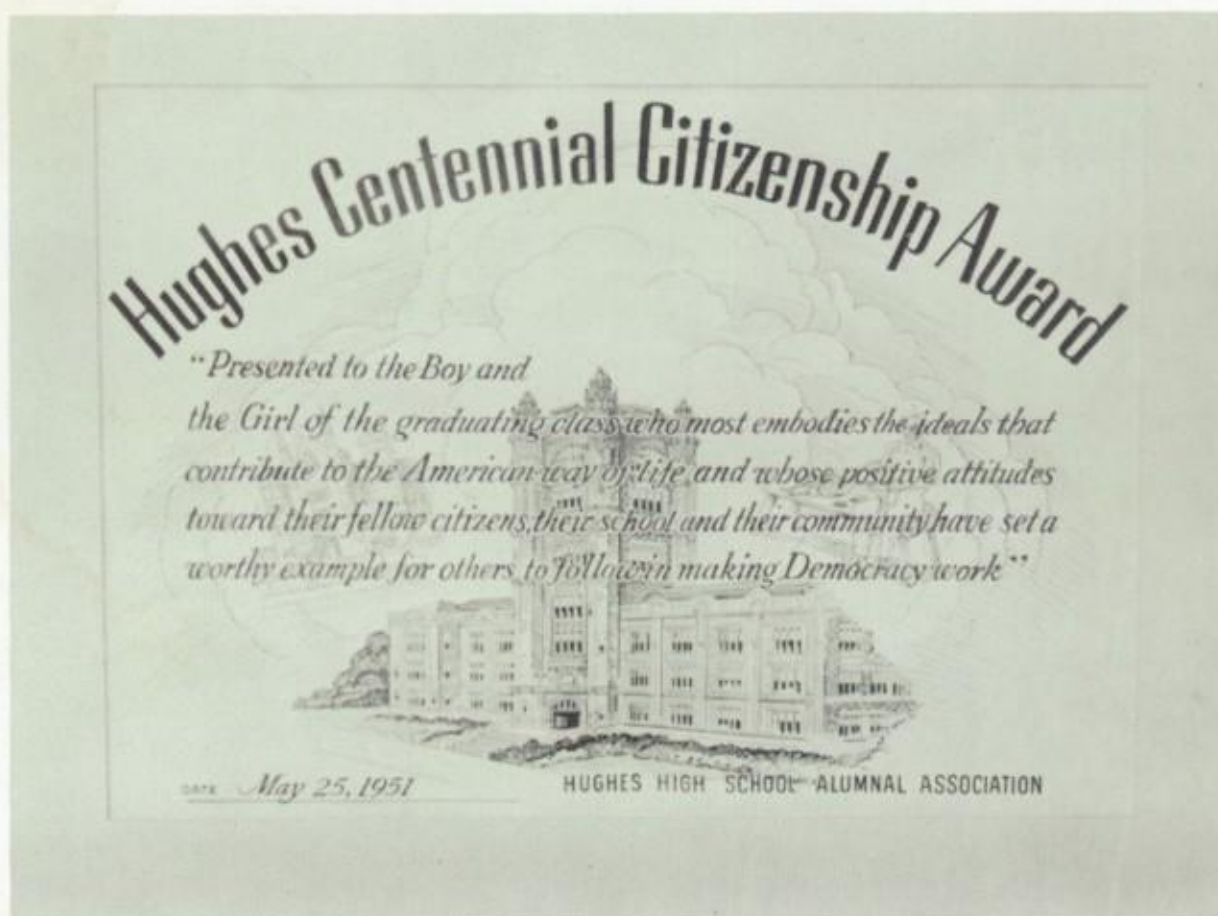

It follows, then, that the second step toward our achievement is work, for it is through work that we put our knowledge into practice. We must never tire of working toward our goal, for work brings us a sense of accomplishment, a sense of doing our share. But diligent work is not enough. Our work must be effective, methodical, and organized in order for our goal to be reached.

Finally, all our knowledge, all our plans, and all our work, still do not insure us of discovering a true purpose, for we may become easily discouraged. Our vision may sometimes be dimmed by adversity. We may have to modify our dream.

Yet there is one fact of which we may be sure. There is a God of infinite power and love who cares about us. Through Him, our failures, our blunders, our trials and our tears are transformed into the very stepping-stones of achievement. And through Him, we can discover the finest purpose in our lives.

Special Thanks to Kenneth Brown and Keith Cordes—The ANNUAL Business Staff

In publishing this 1966 Hughes Annual, the ANNUAL staff appreciates the cooperation of all school personnel. Staff members are also grateful for the assistance given by Pogue's Portraits, Wilbur Cross' School Pictures, and Benson Printing Company, Incorporated. A great big 'thank you' from the whole staff.

"Not just an extension . . .
It's my very own line!"

" . . . And it's great! Now Dad can call home without getting a busy signal . . . and Mom . . . she says she almost forgot what it was like to pick up the phone and call somebody . . . "

It's easy to see why so many busy families are ordering second lines to handle teenage talkathons. This wonderful convenience is worth many times its little added cost.

Class of '66

This is our cry,
"Yea, red! Yea, white!"
The Class of '66
Will do all right.

Some will be doctors,
Others will write.
Yes, the Class of '66
Will keep the Hughes star bright!

We'll give our all
To defend her name,
Hughes High School, our Alma Mater
That we so proudly claim.

And, now, for the Class of '66,
It's time to say good-bye.
We know we are the best of all
In the history of Hughes High.
